

There is a “feeling” of comfort and trust and solidity for me when I go to a truly well-built house at one of my sites, knowing every aspect of that house is built of the highest quality, honest effort and heartfelt pride of the contractor and each of his subs. It’s palpable for me and is a real thrill for me. That is how I feel arriving at the site!

Alexander D Latham III
Architect